Fine Speakers At Pupils As Reporters Community Club's Opening Luncheon

Narberth Women Hold First Fall Meeting

The opening luncheon of the Women's Community Club was held last Tuesday at one o'clock, in the club room, Mrs. A. R. Ross, President, presiding.

The guests were received by the officers of the Club and Miss Florence Dibert, President of the State Federation. The Club-room was filled to capacity as about one hundred and twenty were seated at the tables, and all around the room were huge masses of dahlias given by Mr. Herbert Yowell, which added rich autumnal coloring to the scene.

After the singing of the State Song, "Hail Pennsylvania," Mrs. Ross, who was presiding for the first time, greeted the Club members, pointing out the things that can be accomplished as Club-women and the great need of a Club-house as a centre of activities. Introducing Miss Dibert, Mrs. Ross said: "We are glad and honored to have with us our State President, Miss Florence Dibert."

Miss Dibert said in part, "We club women come together in love to work for other people. We are the dynamic force to make Pennsylvania a better State for our children. In all the States there are more than 2,000,000 women working for the good of the children, for the children are the greatest asset of the State. While we women work mostly for others, we must not forget to do something for ourselves, and working for a Club-house of your own will give you strength to accomplish more."

"Many people do not know that the club women take care of two scholarships at State College. That is, the money is paid to the girls to support themselves while in college and not direct to the college. Boys have always been looked after, now the time has come to look after our girls. And if you get your Club-house and keep it open for the girls, remember that where the girls are the boys will follow."

"The standard of a nation is only as high as its women; therefore it is up to us. As individuals, we have very little influence; banded together in a Club we can do much; united as a Federation we can do still more. Standing together we can enforce better laws and make Pennsylvania a better place in which to rear our children."

"The Messenger," a magazine published by the State Federation, the "Year Book" with reports of State Officers; the "Endowment Fund" to provide an income out of which state expenses can be paid and the purchase of National headquarters at Washington, D. C., were some of the Federation's work.

FIRE DAMAGES HOUSE

The home of Edward B. Harold, 110 Grove Place, was damaged last Monday afternoon by fire. The flames originated from the burning of sulphur on the second floor. An alarm was turned in to the Narberth Fire Company at 3:55, and the engines responded immediately.

It was found that the flames had eaten into the ceiling of the first floor, had spread over part of the second floor, and by creeping up inside the walls, were beginning to attack the third floor.

The firemen reached the scene of the blaze within three minutes of the time the alarm was sounded. By means of a small amount of chemical, and by cutting away part of the blazing walls, the fire was extinguished in quick time, with a damage estimated at less than $200.00.

The prompt response of our local company was in accordance with the splendid record so far maintained. The efficiency of the new siren was shown, for, although sounded but a few times, it was heard by one fireman working at Chauncey's house in Fairview, and by members of the Lower Merion Police stationed at Haverford, who came to investigate.

A reorganization of parts of the system of the company has been effected, which, added to an unusually clean record, should certainly do much to place Narberth in a higher insurance classification.

COLUMBUS DAY

Pupils Report on Exercises by Grade 7-B

The following news articles were written by two pupils of the Narberth Schools.

There are some coming reporters in our Schools! We hope to hear from their pupils. Ed.

On Thursday morning, October 12th, Christopher Columbus, for the second time, set his foot on America.

Scenes from Columbus' life were enacted by the B section of the seventh grade in the Narberth High School. The play was acted very well by amateurs who have had little or no stage experience before.

When the play started, the boy Columbus was seen seated on the dock at Genoa, Italy. This scene was followed by the man Columbus arguing with councillors as to whether the world was round or flat. Columbus then appeared before the King and Queen of Spain, and asked for help. The King would not help him, so the Queen gave Columbus her jewels to sell so that he could get money and outfit his ships.

Columbus was next seen pacing the deck of his ship and looking through a spy-glass. The mate and some sailors approached and complained of the unknown horrors, but Columbus told them to "Sail on." All of a sudden a light was seen, off the stage, and the audience knew land had been discovered. Columbus stood on the supposed India, and claimed the country for the King of Spain; while near at hand Indians were examining him closely.

In this scene Columbus was back in Spain and showed the King and Queen the inhabitants he had brought from the strange land. The King made Columbus governor of the new land.

R. C. S., Jr.

The six scenes from the life of Columbus given by the Seventh B. Grade under the direction of Miss Jenkins, brought home to us the importance of Columbus as we had never seen it before.

We saw Columbus as a boy dreaming of the ocean and how some day he might find a new route to the East.

Again he appeared as a man, arguing with learned geographers, trying to convince them that the world was round.

We next saw him before the Queen persuading her to lend him enough money to start on the much talked of expedition.

Columbus' undaunted perseverance on ship board thrilled the audience to silence and later brought down the house.

When Columbus with his sword raised high above his head, claimed the land in the name of the Queen of Spain, we had a good idea of how the Indians stood in awe of the white people.

It was a happy and victorious Columbus who returned home bringing the tidings to the whole country that what he supposed to be a new route to India had been found.

It was a unique act. All the characters acted to the best of their ability. And indeed Miss Jenkins and the Seventh B. Grade deserve a lot of credit.

GUILD MEETING

Do not forget the Annual Meeting of the Needlework Guild at the Presbyterian Church on November 8th at 2 P. M. Everybody welcome.

Many Musicians of The FIRESIDE Narberth Join Main Line Orchestra

Regular Rehearsals Being Held at Ardmore

Narberth musicians who have thus far taken part in rehearsals of the Main Line Orchestra are Mr. and Mrs. L. Wayne Army, Mr. George B. Abell, Mr. Wm. P. Nash and Mr. A. J. Loos. Mr. Thomas E. Knutzen will take part after this week among the violins, and it is hoped that Mr. Earle Marshall will do likewise. A number of other Narberthians have been invited, some of whom will doubtless join. Miss Anne Jackson, well known in Narberth and all along the Main Line as a violin soloist, attended the rehearsal this week, which was on Friday evening instead of Thursday, owing to the hall having been engaged by another organization for Oct. 19th.

The personnel of the Orchestra at present is as follows:

Violins, Mrs. Army, Miss Charlotte Elder, Miss Gladys Rutter, Messrs. Austin McD. Collier, A. P. Gest, Jr., A. J. Loos, James McDermott, William Reed, Harold Schumann, Louis Varielichio.

Cellos—Messrs. L. Wayne Army, George B. Abell, A. O. Betzler and William P. Nash.

Flutes—Messrs. Wesley J. Ohl and Francis Adelberger.

Clarinet—Mr. G. B. Tompkins.

French Horn—Mr. G. R. Strol.

Cornet—Mr. Francis Weaver.

Trumpets, Messrs J. Wooding and H. Duey.

Trombone—Mr. Arnold Lynch.

Drums—Mr. Joseph Smith.

This is very encouraging as a beginning, but Mr. Adolph Vogel, the very capable and inspiring leader, hopes that the number will be augmented to 50. He would like at least 18 violins on the roll, and a number of violas are very much needed to give the proper tone quality. There are so many excellent amateurs along the Main Line, that the desired number could be secured without much difficulty. It is an unusual opportunity to receive such excellent professional training in orchestra routine at so trifling a cost, the dues for active members being only $3.00 per annum. Written applications may be sent to Miss Dorothy Jones-Parry, 113 Walnut Ave., Ardmore, Pa., or better still, candidates may bring their instruments to the hall in the Woman's Club Building, Ardmore Ave., Ardmore, Thursday evenings at 8 o'clock.

K. OF C. HONORS RETIRING LEADER

As a testimonial of his untiring services to Bishop Kenrick Council, K. of C., of Ardmore, fellow members presented their retiring Grand Knight, Mr. B. J. Martin, a handsome easy chair at the last meeting of the Council held on Friday evening. Elected to the office at the inception of the Council, "B. J.", as he is popularly known, has proved a very able leader and has been in a large measure responsible for the rapid strides the Council has made during the past two years. Mr. Martin is being succeeded by Mr. William H. Creamer, Jr., of Narberth, who from all indications will efficiently fill his predecessor's shoes. The newly-elected officers for the ensuing year were installed at Friday's meeting.

The next semi-monthly meeting of the Council will be held on October 27th in conjunction with a smoker arranged by the Entertainment Committee. This will be known as "Athletic Night," when plans for athletic activities in which the Council will participate during the coming months will be outlined by Chairman James Foley, of the Athletic Committee. A basketball team is being organized to enter the K. of C. League, which is composed of a number of first-class teams from Philadelphia and vicinity. The local organization promises to have a very strong team, as the Council numbers among its members several well-known from high school and college stars.

Council meetings are held in the Fireman's Hall at Ardmore on the second and fourth Fridays of each month.

RECEPTACLES NECESSARY

An order has been issued to all Postmasters that "by December 31st, 1922, at the latest, all dwellings shall be provided with slots or receptacles to receive the mail. Those not complying with this order are not to receive city delivery service."

We hope that Narberth will show 100% efficiency in regards to this order and to accomplish this, the letter carrier first reporting his route entirely equipped with either a door slot or a mail receptacle will have his name published in the Postal Bulletin as well as posted on the Bulletin Board in the lobby of the Narberth Post Office. As this is to be a competition among the carriers, you can help the carrier on your route win the distinction by arranging for a receptacle or slot at your earliest possible moment.

The object of this order is: delivery of mail without the necessity for responding to the carriers' ring at inconvenient moments; prompt and safe delivery of all mail in the absence of occupants, thus avoiding delay through return of mail to the post office when there is no one to receive it, and the doing away with the unsafe practice of placing mail under doors, in vestibules and on window sills.

I hope to have the co-operation of all those concerned.

Fred C. Patten, Postmaster.

THEATRE CHANGES HANDS

The Main Line Amusement Company of Ardmore have acquired the interests of the Palace Amusement Company, and in the future the Palace Theatre will be operated in conjunction with the Ardmore Theatre.

It is also announced by the management that other interests may be acquired, and that additional building is contemplated.

Citizen Would End Big Tennis Fair Is Narberth Borough Now Going Ahead At Full Blast

Proposes Union With Lower Merion Township

Fellow Citizens:

You have now presumably paid your taxes; at any rate you have received a bill for them, and you were no doubt disagreeably surprised at the size of them, as you always are, and if you are an old citizen of Montgomery County you have surely frequently wondered why the taxes outside of Narberth are so much lower than they are within the Borough limits.

Anthony Farm property owners, as you know, are outside the Borough limits, yet they have all the advantages we have. They live on or near cement roads; their own may not be in a high state of repair, but nevertheless are serviceable, and that is more than can be said of many of the roads and streets of Narberth. These people pay only half the taxes we do. Cynwyd, Bala, Ardmore and similar closely built up places, have well lighted excellent streets, free garbage collection (although they have to pay extra for having ashes removed); the people are located, fixed and accommodated in about the same way and manner as we are, yet their taxes are decidedly less than half of ours. What is the reason it is a disadvantage to live in Narberth, and a financial advantage to live in Lower Merion Township? Personally, I know nothing about the reason why, not being a mathematician, a statistician or an expert accountant, but as we have a good many of this sort of people living within our Borough limits, I would like very much if one or more of these people would take their pen in hand and advise me and other fellow sufferers just why this condition exists. While they are about it, also let us know what to think of the proposition that is going to be submitted to the next meeting of the Narberth Civic Association that the territory known as the "Borough of Narberth" be re-incorporated in Lower Merion Township?

A. E. WOHLERT.

To the Editor of "Our Town":

I attended the banquet held at the General Wayne Inn a few weeks ago given in honor of the Narberth Ball Club, and listened with great pleasure to the speakers of the evening, on the subject of base ball and the good that comes from clean sportsmanship both to the player and the community as a whole. This was an evening well spent and one which will not be forgotten by those who were present.

However, with a few exceptions, I have heard little or no talk since about what is to be done during the coming season of 1923. I should think the people of Narberth, particularly those who are interested in the welfare of the Ball Club should get together at some time in the near future or a number of times if possible and talk over the plans for next year.

Now is the time to call the meetings and elect the officers for 1923, and of course above all the man who is to be the manager of that team, since I understand no one has as yet been selected.

With the possibility of having the new Recreation Center by next year, and the fact with that Athletics can be handled on a larger scale than ever before, I sincerely hope that this will help to stir up all those interested in sports who call Narberth their Home Town.

National Tennis Stars to Appear This Afternoon

The big Country Fair of the Narberth Tennis Association will be going full blast when you read these words, unless snow, rain, lightning or tornado has completely wiped off of the Borough map that portion of our local topography located at Haverford and Montgomery avenues.

Starting Friday evening, the Fair will continue throughout Saturday afternoon and evening—that's TODAY, and the biggest kind of a big time is promised to everybody.

Remember, today's the day—Saturday—that the tennis champion of the United States and the great player in berth on the Tennis Association's Narberth might have been a cosmopolitan sea-port town last Thursday evening, if one could judge by the color, nationality and character types portrayed by several groups who thronged the streets in the neighborhood of eight o'clock. But if one had eyes, one might have seen that all roads led to the Y. M. C. A., and if one had ears, one might have judged from the sounds of revelry that proceeded from that building that the Junior Community Club had opened its season with one of its rousing good times. Such was the case, and if the enthusiasm of this first "get-together" affair is a sample of the spirit for the coming season, the Juniors will have no trouble in maintaining their well-established rep "for pep, push, and progress."

The party was given in honor of prospective new members of the Club. Each member bought as her partner a nonmember, but even the familiar old members were unrecognizable in most cases—so clever the disguises in which they arrived. There was a pirate band—bold, bloody and brawny—with real pirate loots—see galoshes—and real steel knives—see paring knives. There were deckchairs and groom; a spanish pair—much bewailed and bearranged, and Chong Mong from Hong Kong, and his fair mate fetchingly kimoned. Then there were the "good night" party, yawns and hair curlers complete, jama-jamas, arabs, and mulattas—and Isaac—in full dress)—in fact a representative of almost every type and nationality. And 'neath all the make up—the fair members of the Junior C. C. Dancing, stunts and games were entered into with a zest made snappy with the jazzy notes of a professional pianist—the only male permitted—with the exception of Mr. Donald Laird, the young expert with the drum-sticks whose well-timed "beats" put the finishing touch to the peppy music. Members and guests enjoyed it thoroughly, and both looked forward to many repetitions of such good times.

FORMER OPERA SINGERS NOW
NARBERTH RESIDENTS

To have successfully sung in Grand Opera in Europe; to have been equally successful on the American concert stage as soloists with some of our most prominent orchestras, as well as intimate joint recitals, is a vocal and artistic accomplishment, to which Mr. and Mrs. Burton Piersol, the well known singers, who have recently moved to their new home on Avon Road, can lay claim.

Mrs. Piersol, who was socially prominent in Detroit, being closely related to the Newbury family, surprised society by appearing as prima donna under B. C. Whitney in one of his charming light operas. Her success was immediate and after her first season, the Schuberts of New York engaged her for their forces. Later, on the advice of Mr. Gatti-Casazza, Director of the Metropolitan Opera, Mrs. Piersol cancelled her contract and sailed for Europe, to devote her talents to Grand Opera.

Mrs. Piersol was luckily in America when the world war burst across Europe, so she turned her talents towards the American concert stage. At the music festival at Sparta, New York, as soloist with the New York Symphony Orchestra under Walter Damrosch; and in numerous concerts and recitals she continued her successes.

Mr. Piersol is a Philadelphian, being a son of Dr. G. A. Piersol, the eminent anatomist of the University of Pennsylvania. Although always interested in music, Mr. Piersol chose the Navy as a career and graduated from the U. S. Naval Academy, at Annapolis. An injury received while playing on the Navy football team necessitated his leaving the service, and it was then that he chose the Lyric stage.

He received his vocal and musical education in Berlin under several masters, principal of which was Putnam Griswold, the famous basso of the Royal Opera and Metropolitan Opera. While at the Royal Opera, Mr. Piersol had the honor of singing in a special gala performance before the German Emperor, and his assembled court.

As Mrs. Piersol was starting her engagement at Bremen, Mr. Piersol accepted an engagement as first basso at the same opera and sang many of the most famous roles in the Opera Repertoire, being praised for his acting as well as his singing.

In this country Mr. Piersol has appeared as soloist with the New York Philharmonic, The New York Symphony and the Chicago Symphony Orchestras, and with numerous choral societies, and in joint recitals with his wife in many cities.

The Piersols are greatly interested in the musical growth of Narberth, and in order to assist local students, they will instruct a few pupils at their new home.

THE TOWER OF BABBLE

By Collum Richter

SATIS VERBORUM!

The River of Rhythm has dried up completely.

Hence therefore we can't start The Column off sweetly

With jingling verses or "sich."

But this will, no doubt, give a lot of folks pleasure

Who loudly declare that our "ponies"

in a measure

Are worse than the "seven day's itch."

For the especial benefit of Elizabeth

Librarian Wood, the Latin title that has been bestowed on the above salutatory song may be literally translated to mean "Dry Up!"

We have it on good authority that the Federation of Women's Clubs voted a man, for Vivisection, after listening to a few well chosen words on the subject from our old friend Dr. Wiliam Williams Keen up in Reading recently.

Parbleu! (French for Gosh) Now truly does look as though we would have to leave town or relinquish our bedrooms in an effort at disguise. We have been cut up for the good of the Public four times now and it isn't all beer and skittles by a long shot.

The Column is awaiting with bated breath, the publication of that "if and when" information concerning the Lower Merion High School survey. It had ought to be interesting. Particularly so, should it emanate from the source from which we imagine it will.

There is no other person who is better capable or more fitted to draft a comprehensive review of the situation. We can imagine no greater concentration of effort than that which he will put upon the subject. Etc., etc. Ad infinitum.

And this ought to have some bearing on our salary being doubled. If it does not, we will simply go ahead and rewrite our resignation for the twelfth time.

But casting all light-speaking aside,

the School predicament is becoming quite serious. Since the Narberth

Educational Investigator has unearthed facts regarding the paucity of our High School scholars, the problem nears solution.

And, ever ready to inaugurate movements for the good of this our inimitable Borough, we suggest stopping the New Building Project instanter and enlisting the unqualified support of Cook Bros.

Our reason for this is obvious. They have been so generous at odd times, in offering portions of their place of business to be used in the interest of Cake

Sales and so forth, that we imagine they would readily agree to having the High School conducted in these same identical premises. It would surely be in the center of things and no mistake. Near the Brightest Spot, White's,

The Davis Emporium and other places where the H. S. students are prone to take their post graduate course in gastronomies.

A prominent Merion millionaire

clattered up to our front door tother evening in his perambulating showcase and laid down the Law to us in no uncertain terms regarding sundry

"thank-you-ma'ams" that still exist on Narberth highways after nightfall.

"For the six hundred and thirty-second time, why 'a 'ell doesn't the Borough fix 'em?" he interrogated.

The only thing we can do is to give his complaint undue publicity. Which is done herewith. Now, it is squarely up to Hon. Chairmanwenz and the Civic Committee of the Women's C. Club.

We hereby do declare and make public the fact that we intend intruding our person upon the Grounds of the Tennis Club on Saturday afternoon.

Both of the handsome Narberth Police Force accordingly take notice. We shall be for the greater part of the time a patron of the Hot Dog Division and the Fish Pond. Although we must confess there is also a powerful urge to squander currency most outrageously

in the immediate vicinity of the Cake

Booth.

And just to prove that we still retain our verve and ambition (though well past the mile stone of Youth) we shall be pleased to have Miss Dorothy

Lillian Stottlett take dinner with us on Saturday night, round the old family table, with Lania and the hopefuls, if she has no objections to Fried Chicken,

Candied Sweet Potatoes, Succotash, Hot

Waffles and Maple Syrup, and Frozen

Pine Apple.

LOCAL ORGANIZATIONS AND THE WELFARE FEDERATION OF PHILADELPHIA

The Welfare Federation of Philadelphia, which includes most of the charitable organizations of Philadelphia, is about to commence a drive for funds. This organization is to approach the people of this vicinity, and it is thought best to make a statement of our position in the matter.

While we are in hearty sympathy with the aim of the Welfare Federation of Philadelphia, and wish it every success, we think it only fair and just to state that we are not members of the Federation and that gifts made to it cannot be used for the charitable work in this vicinity. We need a considerable sum to carry properly the social service, civic and charitable work of this vicinity, and appeals must soon be made for it, and in order that there may be no misunderstanding this statement is made at this time.

NUTRITION CLASSES

Nutrition classes for underweight children, conducted during the past school season at the Chestnutwood School, Haverford township, now have twelve children at practically normal weight, thanks to the summer work of the Ardmore Health Center. These children agreed to follow out to the best of their ability, the health rules taught them in class, and to report at regular intervals to the Health Center to be weighed and measured.

The report on these weighings shows that these twelve children gained anywhere from 1 1/2 pounds to 3 1/4 pounds during the summer, making a total of 19 3/4 pounds. Miss Helen Cole Carter, of the Health Center is especially well pleased with these gains, in view of the fact that all of these children were more or less seriously underweight at the beginning of the summer.

The health work in the Main Line Schools, this year, will not be confined to the under-weight children. All the children of the elementary schools in the Haverford Township, and in the Lower Merion Township, will be given health instruction this year, and they will be weighed at definite intervals.

CAKE SALE

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Holy Trinity Lutheran Church will hold another Cake sale on the Lawn fronting 109 Forrest Ave., on Saturday, Oct. 28th.

The recent Cake sale was very successful, although a number of late comers were disappointed as everything was disposed of early in the day. While those in charge will likely have a larger supply it would be well to be on hand early.

Shortage of Building Sites in Narberth

Narberth's growth has been consistent. This may be why our folks do not realize there is little available land in Narberth for home building.

Some are planning new homes and we cannot too strongly urge the selection of the building site before it is too late.

Or, for investment, the purchase of land with constantly improving property values will yield good returns.

It will be of much interest to our people to learn that Mr. A. O. Shand, Jr., in connection with some real estate development of his, has laid a concrete sidewalk on the south side of Montgomery Pike from Essex Avenue, for a distance of perhaps 400 feet. This eliminates the worst portion of the walk along Montgomery Pike. Formerly, the weeds which grew to a great height, were very objectionable in wet weather and there was a small gully over which a few boards had been laid, constituting a very dangerous condition. In winter, the mud was very deep and now all of this has been taken care of. It is hoped that we may be able to have a sidewalk laid the balance of the distance to Wynneswood Avenue, which would be greatly appreciated by all who have to walk that distance along the pike.

The congregations are steadily growing, due to the excellent manner in which the services are conducted by Mr. Bell and Mr. Hutt, and because of the fine music being put on by Mr. Spratt. It is hoped that more people will continue to come, as the service is of such a character as to satisfy everyone and not displease the most particular.

The Montgomery School bus, a new one, leaves the centre of Narberth from in front of White's Sweet Shop, 15 minutes before every service.

THE ROLL OF HONOR IN THE CHILDREN'S CORNER

In July the Roll of Honor was opened with hopes and trepidations. On September 20th, it was closed with some satisfaction and eleven names. They follow, but not, unfortunately, wearing the beautiful old English script which, at the library, makes them look fully as proud as they deserve.

John Delavan, ten, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Delavan, of 103 Woodbine Ave.; Anne Speed, the eleven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh B. Speed, 127 Chestnut Ave.; Rita Funk, thirteen, daughter of Mr. & Mrs. Charles Funk, of 223 Iona Ave.; Mary Blodgett, eleven, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willis E. Blodgett, of 105 Grayling Ave.; Helen Cuthbert, the ten-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell A. Cuthbert, of North Rockland Road; Virginia Eyre, ten-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert B. Eyre, 123 Woodside Ave.; Edwin Wolf, thirteen, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Wolf, 212 Elm Terrace; the three daughters of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Augst, Kathryn, eleven, Adele, nine, and Peggy, ten, of 406 Dudley Ave.; Ruth Cook, ten-year-old daughter of Mrs. L. S. Cook, of 122 Windsor Ave.

Special mention is due Adele Augst, because she was not daunted by her scant nine years, and seems to have done her reading as understandingly as the older ones.

I cannot help moralizing a bit over the list itself. So here it is again, all the Honor-books in order of their popularity.

1. Story of mankind, Van Loon, 7. (Selections and pictures.)
2. Robin Hood—his book, Tappan, 7.
3. Rip Van Winkle, Irving, 7.
4. Working my way around the world, Franek, 7.
5. Hero-tales from the Far North, Riis, 7.
6. Biography of a grizzly, Seton, Thompson, 6.
7. The prince and his ants, Bertilli, 6.
8. His soul goes marching on, Andrews, 5.
9. The Jungle Books, Kipling, 5.
10. Hero-tales from American history, Roosevelt and Lodge, 5.
11. Tommy Remington's battle, Stevenson, 4.
12. Tom Brown's school days, Hughes, 4.
13. Rewards and fairsies, Kipling, 4.
14. Wind in the willows, Grahame, 4.
15. English fairy tales, Jacobs, 4.
16. East o' the sun and west o' the moon, (Norse fairy tales), Ashjorsen, 4.
17. Water wonders every child should know, Thompson, 4.
18. Celtic fairy tales, Jacobs, 3.
19. Indian scout talks, Eastman, 3.
20. Man without a country, Hale, 3.
21. Story of the Iliad, Brooks version, 2.
22. Story of the Odyssey, Brooks Version, 2.
23. Slav Fairy Tales, 2.
24. Stories from Wagner, Frost, 2.
25. Water Wonders every child should know, Hawksworth, 2.
26. Story telling poems and ballads from the Home-book of verse, Stevenson, 1.

As the choice of books within the list was entirely up to the boys and girls themselves, for in several cases when a book with the desired appeal was not in, another of a purchase since the printing of the list, was substituted, I think the grades of popularity given above may be taken as fairly accurate.

It is pleasant to note that "The Story of Mankind" kept pace with "Rip Van Winkle" and "Robin Hood." Theoretically it ought to do more. If "Robin Hood" is seven, "The Story of Mankind" ought to be seven to the nth power. For it gives the background to an untold number of Robin Hoods, adventures, and heroes of every epoch and country that can neatly and meaningfully be linked with our own. There is no other single book equal to it for giving its reader an idea of the relations of things. Most youngsters, and some grown-ups too, are inclined to think that this is the best age that ever was, that really nothing much before 1900, except perhaps a little American history, matters. If the seven, who have had "The Story of Mankind," have had this notion the least bit jogged, it is worth a million Rolls of Honor.

I'm partial to fairy-tales myself and I'd like to see them have a little more than twenty-four points out of the one hundred and ten. But it's a bad time for fairies these days. These twenty-four were pretty bold.

I have not space enough to speak of more of the books individually. But in considering the whole group, aren't these the natural questions which almost ask themselves, "When there are such good books for children, which they themselves choose and like, why give them anything less good? Why are so many inferior, condescending things written for them? Can't we in Narberth, and we doubt if it will weed those out, and give them only ever be duplicated for—well, Bill what we, and they themselves want. Evans, and John Wine and Jim Darville and old P. T. Barnum McKillips Don't think I'm getting too moral, may recover after all the work they There is just as much satisfaction of have done to make the Fair a success, the demand for adventure in "Tom but they will never be the same!

I've moralized enough. Children's Book Week is coming. At the library it will be celebrated on Friday, November 17th. Then there will be some more, possibly more pleasurable, moralizing in the form of a display of books good to read and own. Come in and see.

tion's achievements cited by Miss Di-bert. The next speaker was Mrs. Ralston, of Ambler, County Chairman, who made a short report on her work. Then n't heard what Miss McMein has to say about it, the fact is that Miss Mrs. Ellen Foster Stone, who for years has been a guest at the Club's opening luncheon, and who has been active in women's club publicity work, was introduced. She said that this year the State Federation meetings at Reading were given an unusually large amount of space in the newspapers, in fact the greatest amount of publicity that has ever been given by the press.

Dr. Martha Tracy, President of the Business and Professional Women's Club of Philadelphia, was asked to speak on "What a Club may mean to a professional woman." "Undoubtedly," said Dr. Tracy, "a woman in a profession must stick closely to her job and do it to the best of her ability, but that does not relieve her of any social obligations. If she can find time to mingle with and know women in clubs, it will help her to keep out of a rut, for she also needs art and music to refresh her soul. She is in the front trenches and she can bring back special information and the other women can support her by their work."

Mrs. Garrigues, of the Matinee Musical, spoke of the work of her Club in furthering good music in the schools and helping weak musical clubs; Mrs. Roberts, of the New Century Club, spoke on not being discouraged, but pushing forward; Mrs. Purnell, of the Hathaway-Shakespeare Club, spoke on the use of better English and how, if a quotation a week was studied, an encyclopedia of thought would be the result.

Mrs. Prentiss Nichols, now a member of the State Board of Education, told of the Finnegan plan, and how, by 1927, every teacher in the State would be a graduate of at least a high school. Two-thirds of all the Pennsylvania teachers attended summer school this year, and it is hoped that before long Pennsylvania will be among the first states in education, instead of the twenty-first.

Mrs. Herman H. Birney told of her observations in France where she went this summer, as one of the Good-Will Delegation. She assured the Club members that in spite of all the rumors heard of militarism in France, that nation is working hard and getting back on its feet.

The program closed with two solos by Mrs. Helen B. Hitner, accompanied by Miss Gest.

Everybody quiet! Almost forgot one of the biggest features! Attention everybody! On both evenings will appear Miss Dorothy Lillian Stofflett and Miss Miriam Kutz, two talented singers. And what's more Miss Stofflett is, according to Neysa McMein, the celebrated artist, the second most beautiful girl in America, and while we have a short report on her work. Then n't heard what Miss McMein has to say about it, the fact is that Miss Mrs. Ellen Foster Stone, who for years has been a guest at the Club's opening luncheon, and who has been active in women's club publicity work, was introduced. TWO TINY WIRES

Each Bell Telephone subscriber is connected to the local central office by wires—two tiny wires.

These wires pass through a maze of cables and coils, through delicate apparatus that must be kept in careful adjustment.

And that isn't the end of it, for there must be apparatus to connect each telephone here with any other Bell Telephone in the nation.

The job of building and maintaining this complicated equipment is done by two-asted men—men who think in terms of never failing service.

Theirs too is the task of installing new telephones, and of maintaining them.

In addition to their knowledge of telephone construction one outstanding quality characterizes these men—they are imbued with the spirit of courtesy.

When they come into your home or your office you find them anxious to do their work quickly, efficiently and neatly.

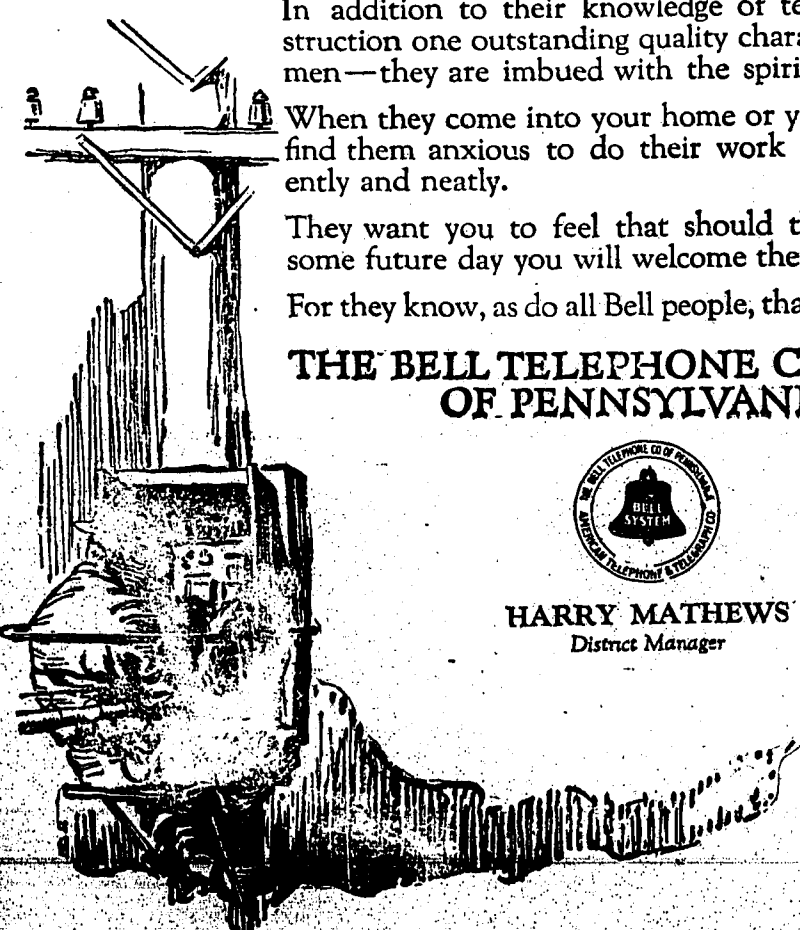

They want you to feel that should they return at some future day you will welcome them.

For they know, as do all Bell people, that courtesy pays.
